

Ron Richards, the Yuma County Conservation District,

&

Invite you to the:

“Thinking About Drought” workshop

Kirk, Colorado

@ Kirk Lions Hall (3237 Yuma County Rd M)

Monday, January 23rd, 2017

Come and learn how to weather drought with the range management tools that really matter!

8:30 – 9am registration, coffee & goodies

9-9:50 Don Schoderbek (CSU Range Specialist)

“Rooted: Plant defoliation and drought on rangeland”

10-11:30 Dr. Roy Roath (CSU Range Specialist 1982-2009, retired)

“Water management in drought environments”

11:30 - 12:30 Beef lunch!

12:30 -3 pm Field activity (weather dependent)

Participants will travel to a local ranch and learn how to evaluate drought impacts on the range and methods that support improved range management during drought times.

FREE OF CHARGE

To register, contact the Yuma County Conservation District at 970-332-3173 ext. 3, or via email at yccd77@gmail.com by Thursday, January 19